Project

For the final project I did a web site for design company. The main page is a demo of different element that can be added to a website. This would be use as an example page for new clients to come see different elements and what they are capable of. I used a full page panel design. This helps split the content so it is more easily defined.

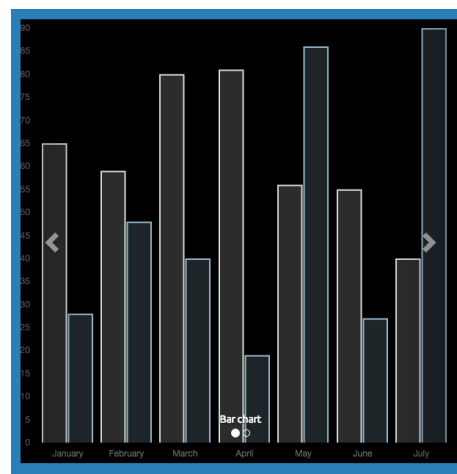

All the images are my personal artwork or photos I have taken. The map image came from http://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/File:Idaho\_90.jpg map. It has a CC0 Public Domain / FAQ Free for commercial use / No attribution required Image License.

The main feature that I chose to go with are:

Interactive Map

Canvas & Interactive Data Visualization

An Interactive Image Gallery
